Roofing industry has witnessed a paradigm shift in the last few years. The construction sector has been a significant contributor to the demand for different types of roofing, owing to the rising global disposable income and increase in infrastructure development of educational institutes, healthcare centers, recreational areas, and office buildings.

Customers are demanding durability, flexibility along with aesthetically pleasing designs. Also, increased corporate and public awareness about climate change has resulted in new initiatives like green building concept and elimination of hazardous materials.

The future of roof industry is bright considering the low steel penetration and high demand in construction industry.
